Invitation

Korea has developed from one of the poorest nations in the world that used to receive the help of international society into a member country of OECD Development Assistance Committee (DAC), acting as a main member of international development and cooperation that helps poor developing countries now.

South Korea's compact and fast development has been possible thanks to the efforts of people, excellent leadership of its leader, and policies such as the Saemaul Undong. Now there is a growing interest and higher demand toward such development experience by the international society. The Saemaul Undong, which started off with a slogan of "Let's live well on our own," has evolved into the Global Saemaul Undong 'towards a safer and happier world' and has become the key model of Korean development and cooperation. In addition, it had a considerable influence on the international society in selecting Sustainable Developmental Goals (SDGs) as the development goal of 2016 ~ 2030 last year.

President Park Chung Hee led the Saemaul Undong and built a solid foundation for South Korea to become a role model of international society. To celebrate the 100th anniversary of his birth, our institute will invite various experts and scholars from all over the world and hold an international academic conference with the topic of 'Why is the World Paying Attention to South Korea? - The Implications of Korean Model for Sustainable Development.'

We understand your busy schedule, but we would truly appreciate if you could attend our international conference and kindly join us in reflecting on the request of international society in the current period as well as the mission of South Korea.

Thank you very much,

September 2016
